

Sam NG

Chief Product Officer

Ironmind AI Limited

Mr Sam NG is a visionary venture builder and entrepreneur with a career dedicated to scaling innovation across AI, Web3, and digital health. Currently the CPO of Ironmind.ai, he is revolutionizing mental health services by integrating AI with positive psychology. With a technical foundation in engineering from The University of Queensland and experience at 500 Startups, Sam has founded several award-winning ventures, including HelperGo, ICW and Vfluencer. His leadership spans roles from software engineer to venture founder, consistently bridging the gap between complex technical architectures and high-impact business strategies.
