

Ming ZHANG

Head of Department, Department of Biomedical Engineering

The Hong Kong Polytechnic University

Professor Ming ZHANG received BSc and MSc from Beijing Institute of Technology and PhD from King's College University of London. He is Chair Professor of Biomechanics, Head of Department of Biomedical Engineering, and Director of Research Institute for Sports Science and Technology at The Hong Kong Polytechnic University. Prof Zhang is a Councilor of World Council of Biomechanics (WCB), President of International Society of Sports Science and Technology (ISSST), Past President of World Association for Chinese Biomedical Engineers (WACBE). Prof. Zhang is internationally recognized for his contributions to musculoskeletal biomechanics for orthopedics, rehabilitation engineering and sports science.